'60 Wheat Vote Slated Thursday

County farmers will vote tomorrow on marketing quotes for the 1960 wheat crop.

Two-thirds approval of those voting is required to keep quotas for the 1960 wheat crop, along with price supports of at least 75 per cent of parity for farmers who comply with allotments.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose the quotas, penalties and quotas will not be in effect for next year's crop. Acreage allotments will remain in effect as a condition for price supports at 50 per cent of parity.

Randall County has been alloted 134,645 acres for the 1960 crop year, a decrease of 911 acres. Each farm will have a slight reduction in its allotment, according to Doyle Thomas, secretary of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

If marketing quotas are rejected, allotments would still be in effect but no penalty would apply for overplanting. Support prices would be 50 per cent of parity and would be available only to those farmers planting within their allotments.

Eligible to vote in the referendum are those who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest, except those who are participating in the 1959 feed wheat program. Under the feed wheat program, farmers may arrange to grow up to 30 acres of wheat for use only on the farm where grown without being subject to marketing quota penalties.

Wives of eligible voters may also vote.

Farmers with an interest in 15 acres or less are not allowed to vote because penalties do not apply to their acreage, even though quotas carry by the necessary two-thirds majority.

Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Canyon voters will cast their ballots at the ASC office; Sunny Hill-Fairview Community Building; Jowell, Jowell Community Building; Umbarger, school auditorium; Highland, Roy Lamb home; Trigg-Zita, Haney Elevator; and Stone, Harold Erwin home.

Car Strikes Girl In Front of Home

Janet Lynn Canada, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Canada of 1319 Fourth Avenue, was in Neblett Hospital Wednesday after being struck by a car Monday in front of her home.

She is suffering from a broken right leg and lacerations and scratches of the face and legs, according to City Patrolman Ray Reynolds, who investigated the accident.

Patrolman Reynolds said the driver of the car which struck Janet was Eddie Baca, 23, of Seventh Avenue at 2nd Street.

A test of the skid marks made after the accident showed that Baca was not speeding when the car he was driving hit the girl, Reynolds said.

The accident occurred at 8:07 p.m. Monday on Fourth Avenue.

Assisting Reynolds in his investigation were City Patrolman Calvin Costley and Highway Patrolman Fred Lenz.

Janet was taken to Neblett Hospital in a Warren-LaGrone ambulance.

Both games will be the opening round of the league playoffs, with the possibility that the winner could advance to the national playoffs.

Managing the Little Leaguers at the game with Dumas will be Jim Boyce, with Junior Fitts as co-manager. The team will leave Canyon Friday at 1:30 p.m., accompanied by their parents for the game in Borger.

All-Star Roster

Fate of the Little Leaguers rests on the shoulders of Richard Merchant, James Jennings, Jim Callarman, and Dennis Haley of the Dodgers, Jody Sheets, Bill Long, Bruce Winn, Tommy Higgins, and Clifford Sherrod of the Yankees, Tom Lair, Jim Cabe, Don Howard, and Alex Martinez of the Redlegs, and Lonnie Neil and Don Gough of the Braves.

Should the Canyon Little League All-Stars win Friday, they will play Borger on Saturday.

Members of the Babe Ruth League were working out this week, attempting to nail down a position for the team's first game on Tuesday.

Managers of the Babe Ruth League will pick the top 15 boys today at 7 p.m. to play against Plainview. After the squad has been trimmed, workouts will be held each day, except Sunday.

Thursday's workout will begin at 5 p.m., and Friday's will be under the lights at 7 p.m., Saturday's at 5 p.m.. and Monday's at 7 p.m.

Jim Boyd and D. L Hunt are co-managers of the Babe Ruth League All-Star squad. Boyd is regular season manager of the Pirates, while Hunt manages the Giants during the season.

During workouts, however, Boyd and Hunt will be assisted by Chet Reynolds, manager of the White Sox, and Don Paris, manager of the Cardinals.

The 18 youths working out this week are Leon Henderson, Harry Lisle, Robert Cooke, Hollis Marshall, and Ronnie Reynolds of the White Sox, Steve Burgess, Ralph Cabe, Terry Funk, Davis Price, and Albert Keller of the Cardinals, Bill Ashley, Bob Begert, Russell Cook, Jimmy Killingsworth, and David Cole of the Giants, and James Boyd, Ronnie Brock, and Doug Ward of the Pirates.

May Play Again

If the Babe Ruth All-Stars win their game Tuesday, they will play the winner of the Brownfield-South Levelland game on Wednesday.

Should the team be eliminated at the tourney, a group of 13-year-olds from each squad will play a best two-out-of-three series.

The White Sox will play the Pirates and the Giants and the Cardinals will square off for a game. Parents of the youths are urged to attend the games.

Two make-up games are scheduled this week in the Babe Ruth League, with the Giants playing the Cardinals on Thursday and the Pirates and Cardinals playing on Saturday. The White Sox and Pirates were to play Tuesday night.

Little League wound up play for the season, with the Yankees leading the pack with 17 wins and one loss. The Redlegs were second with 11 wins and seven losses, the Dodgers were third with seven wins and 11 losses, and the Braves in the cellar with no wins and 18 losses.

Redlegs in First

In the Minor League, the Redlegs finished first with 14 wins and four losses, the Yankees were second with 13 wins and five losses, the Dodgers won none, lost 17, and tied one.

Canyon Hit Hard By Violent Storm

Another violent hail storm ripped through Canyon Sunday causing "at least as much damage" as the storm which tore at the town July 10, insurance agents in the city said this week.

The eastern section of the city again was the hardest hit, where hail was "banked up like snow," one report asserted.

Signs were still up Monday morning on State Highway 217, east of town, warning motorists of the hail drifts. Drifts along the right-of-way on the highway were standing Monday morning as many residents were on their way to work.

Along with the hail, Canyon received .40 of an inch of rain and some high winds.

The violent storm, although brief, dropped temperatures as much as 25 to 30 degrees.

The town west of Highway 87 received some hail along with the rain, but it came in sporadic bursts, doing little, if any, damage to homes in the area.

Insurance adjusters, already busy from the storm of July 10, redoubled their efforts this week as more claims were filed by home owners.

Some of the homes in the Canyon area which had been damaged by the July 10 storm had not been repaired before the storm hit about 3:30 Sunday afternoon.

These homes, most of which were in the eastern section of the city, were hit again Sunday, and extensive damage was done to some of them.

Public Hearing On School Budget Called for August 18 by Board

A public hearing on the proposed budget of the Canyon Independent School District for the school year 1959-1960 was called Tuesday night by the school board for August 18.

The hearing with interested taxpayers was set for 8 p.m. in the Board Room of the high school.

The proposed 1959-60 budget is up nearly $80,000 over the budget for 19589-59, with most of the increase budgeted to service the debt requirements of the school district.

Over $103,600 is included in the proposed budget for debt service for the coming school year, while $47,340 was budgeted for debt service during the 1958-59 school year.

The proposed budget calls for expenditures totaling $579,240, as compared to last year's budget of $500,278.

In other action Tuesday night, the school board approved the employment of three new teachers for the Canyon schools.

Miss Alice Brotherton was hired to teach girl's physical education and coach the girl's basketball team, Mrs. Bettye Knighton was employed to teach high school mathematics, and Stanley Lair will teach seventh and eighth grade science.

Miss Brotherton replaces Mrs. Marion Young, Mrs. Knighton was employed as an additional teacher, and Lair replaces John Howle.

The board rotated the agency suppling the car for Driver Education, selecting Bruce Blackaby Ford car this year.

Imperial Chevrolet Co. had supplied the car for the past two years.

Twelve firms had obtained plans and specifications of the proposed new high school before the board meeting Tuesday. Bids on the school building are to be opened July 30.

Canyon voters approved the sale of $1 million in bonds for erection of the building last September 6 by an almost 2 to 1 margin.

Jaycee Quarterhorse Show Slated For August 1 at WT Rodeo Arena

Inquires have come from Dallas to Roswell, N. M., concerning the Junior Chamber of Commerce's First Annual Quarterhorse Show, John Carlile, show manager, said this week.

The event, which will be held August 1 at the West Texas State Rodeo Grounds, will be Canyon's debut into western-type shows, Carlile said.

The show will feature complete halter classes, as well as a reining contest.

Highlight of the show, however, is expected to be the cutting horse contest, which will be held that night.

Judge for the quarterhorse show is Gene George, prominent quarterhorse breeder from Amarillo. George is the former owner of Sentor George, a famous horse which recently sold for $13,000.

The show will get underway at 9 a.m. August 1 and will last throughout the day at the Rodeo Grounds.

There will be no admission charge, and the public is urged to attend, Carlile said.

The Jaycees will operate a concession stand all day at the site of the show.

Mrs. Warwick Presents Carillon To Methodist Church, Residents

The traditional Westminster Chime, followed by the toll of the hours, rang out over Canyon Friday for the first time.

The bells are a gift to the First Methodist Church and the residents of Canyon from Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick. The "Carillonic Bells" instrument, which sounds the chime and hour strike, was presented by Mrs. Warwick in memory of her husband, Clyde W. Warwick, publisher of The Canyon News from 1910 to 1955.

The 25-note instrument has been adjusted to chime and strike the hours from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. each day. Hymns are being played by the instrument at 8 a. m., noon, and 6 p. m.

Controlled By Clock

"Carillonic Bells" is completely automatic, although it can be played from the keyboard of the organ console. The automatic operation is controlled by a calendared clock which can be set to play the carillon at any time of the day.

The instrument consists of 25 miniature bell tone generators of bronze bell metal which are struck by metal hammers, producing true bell tones almost inaudible to the human ear.

Amplified 100,000 Times

These bell vibrations are then amplified over 100,00 times by means of specially designed electronic equipment, producing true bell music with all the depth and richness of traditional cast bells of massive proportions.

The instrument installed in the Methodist Church provides the tonal equivalent of 79,462 pounds of cast bells.

The "Carillonic Bells" instrument was developed by Schulmerich Carillons, Inc., of Sellersville, Pa.

Brighter Days Will Come

Publishing a weekly newspaper is one of the most interesting occupations that anyone could possibly undertake. Under normal conditions, that is. This summer has been anything but normal around The Canyon News.

The first item to make the summer interesting was to have two of the back shop boys leave for six weeks in ROTC camp, which left us a little short, but we thought that we could make it by without them so didn't take time to find replacements. A week later another back shop employee was off for two weeks National Guard camp. He had just returned from 6 months training in the National Guard and was not supposed to go to summer camp, so we didn't have a replacement for him either. This left us with one employee in the shop plus Charles Hillier who operates the Linotypes.

About this time Bill Cherry, our editor, departed for Montana and his new job in Lewistown. Just to make things really interesting, Charles Hillier had an emergency appendectomy last Tuesday night, which left us without an editor, Linotype operator, two back shop employees and our bookkeeper was gone on a week's vacation.

Thanks to Dorothy Haley, our beloved wife, who has been acting editor for the past three weeks and also bookkeeper the past week, we have managed to still get the News out without being too late. We also pressed into service, with some fairly unreasonable promises, our two young sons. They turned out to be pretty good paper folders and clean up boys.

However, things are bound to improve. Our new editor, Oscar Griffin, Jr., who hails from Liberty, Texas reported to work Monday morning along with our bookkeeper back from vacation. All we need now is a Linotype operator and a couple of helpers in the shop.

We appreciate all of the help given us in reporting the news and getting copy in early. We can truly say that there are no finer people in the world than the ones who live here in Canyon. We have made a few mistakes the past week or so but the people involved have been most kind and instead of raking us over the coals have just given us a good kidding about the items.

We clipped a little bit of verse from someone some time back but don't remember where or we would give them credit for it. Anyway here it is:

A REWARD FOR SERVICE

An editor knocked at the Pearly Gates,
His face was scarred and cold;
He stood before the man of fate,
For admission to the fold.
What have you done, St. Peter asked
To gain admission here?
I've been an editor, sir, he said,
For many and many a year.
The Pearly Gates swung open wide,
St. Peter touched the bell.
Come in, he said, and choose your harp.
You've had your share of hell.

People Read, Remember, Buy

A recent nationwide survey shows that more than three-quarters of the nation's retailers expect their summer business to exceed last year's, Editor & Publisher reports. Only 20% anticipate no change, and a mere 2% look for a decline.

It will take a lot of good advertising to bring the expected results about. And it's significant that newspapers will continue to be the retailers' foremost advertising medium. The survey finds that 72% of the stores surveyed plan to invest 80% or more of their summer advertising spending in the papers. And 57% will allocate at least nine-tenths of their ad budgets to the papers.

All advertising media are in tough competition these days, with newspapers, magazines, TV, radio, and direct mail scrapping for a larger share of the ad dollar. But newspapers, despite the new media, hold their own—simply because newspaper ads get results. People read, remember, and buy.

Local or National Regulation

The proposal that the federal minimum wage law be extended to cover groups of workers—such as those in retail trade—who have been exempt ever since the law's inception is an appealing one to many people, on humanitarian grounds. But, understandable as that is, the arguments against the proposed extension are powerful, and based on principle.

The question is not whether wage legislation is needed to cover retailing and the other service industries. If it is, the states are perfectly capable of taking care of that, and many have. The question is whether strictly local businesses, which must compete on the purely local level, and must deal with local conditions and needs, should be governed by an arbitrary federal law which would treat the enterprises of little country towns as it would treat the biggest interstate businesses.

A little past history should be recalled. President Franklin Roosevelt, a staunch friend of labor, in proposing a federal minimum wage law in 1937, said: "There are many purely local pursuits and services which no federal legislation can effectively cover."

The sponsor of this original act in the Senate was another staunch friend of labor—Senator Black, now Mr. Justice Black of the Supreme Court. He said: "Businesses of a purely local type which serve a particular local community, and which do not send their products into the streams of interstate commerce, can be better regulated by the laws of the communities in which the business units operate."

This principle is as valid today as it ever was. It is strictly in accord with the divisions of governmental power in this country. If federal law is to be extended into every area of local life, we might as well abolish the states.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Ernest Joiner in The Ralls Banner: You've been seeing a lot of pictures recently of the U. S. Capitol building dome in Washington. I hope it impresses you, because it represents $27,000,000 of your tax money. That's a hell of a lot of money for a pigeon roost, especially when we already owe $295 billion for battleships, bounties and booze that we can't pay in the first place. But cheer up. In New Zealand last week, taxes were cut.

Ben Ezzell in the Canadian Record: The Texas Legislature hasn't been able to do anything, so far, about a minor question like providing for financing of the state government for the next two years . . . but the solons took plenty of time out of the special session last week to argue about public vs. private ownership of the state's "open beaches" along the Gulf of Mexico.

Political cartoonist Barlett, in the Austin-based weekly "Texas Observer," calls it a "Meeting of the Royal Order of Sons of the Beaches."

Folks around here have been calling session of the Legislature something that sounds a lot like that, too.

W. H. Graham, Jr. in the State Line Tribune: Hal, our four-year-old, has a brain that seems to be developing about like most sure-nuff boys, but his mental capacity is outdistancing his tongue. He hasn't yet mastered some of the euphonics of everyday speaking English.

For example, he tells Jeanne that his favorite breakfast is "awfuls." It takes a little thought to get "waffles" out of this, but that's what he means.

And Ronny, the six-year-old, is the proud owner of a new bicycle. We finally gave in to his begging after a recent accident in which the family auto passed over his trainer-cycle in the driveway.

Say, you think those kids are dumb leaving their wheel toys parked behind the family car? Not on your life. It usually means something newer, better (and more expensive) for them just as soon as the sting of the spanking wears off.

Just rambling:

Los Angeles has an Italian cafe called "the Tower of Pizza."

On the highway a good many miles east of L. A., a motel was under construction, with a sign reading, "Another Blank Company motel — here we grow again."

From the train window, one can see the Salton Sea; it parallels the Southern Pacific's line for miles and miles, and there are speedboats skimming along and the shore is bright with tents and awnings of family outings — but what makes the sea so amazing is that it is 244 feet below sea-level.

The train glides through a scenic contrast; on the left are mountains of jagged stone and on the right are mounds of white sand as smooth as just-fallen snow. Yes, California is a land of wonders.

In Lordsburg, N. M., a movie house had this sign:
"Long Hot Summer;
Selected Shorts"
And as you enter Willcox, Ariz., a sign announces the population as 1,809 and further proclaims, "Cattle Capital of the Nation."

When I was a "cub reporter" at the police station in Memphis, there was a "rescue home" in that city. One night, the desk sergeant, not disclosing his identity, however, telephoned the superintendent of the institution and said, "I understand you save women." "That's right." "Then," said the caller, "save me two, a blonde and a brunette."

Did you ever know an Irishman who said, "Begorra"? (Except on the stage and in Pat-and-Mike jokes.)

A Kentucky orator, A. O. Stanley, debating with a rival, declared, "Ed Morrow's pronouns wander through a wilderness of words searching vainly for their antecedents."

And whatever became of Kilroy?

Census To Cover Cars, Appliances

Special questions on consumer plans to purchase automobiles, television sets, washing machines, and refrigerators will be asked in the current monthly population survey, according to Francis H. Wilmer, director of the Census Bureau's regional office in Denver.

The special questions are in addition to the regular inquires on employment and unemployment which are asked each month in the current population survey. The information is being collected for the Federal Reserve Board for use in a national study of consumer buying trends.

The questions about television sets, washing machines and refrigerators cover present ownership and date of purchase of any of these items, as well as plans to purchase one in the next three or six months. For automobiles, information will be obtained not only on ownership and buying plans, but also on methods of financing, outstanding indebtedness on the car, and recent repair costs.

The current population survey is being conducted here this week by Nan Gamble, enumerator.

West Texas State College Day Proclaimed By Acting Governor

The designation of Tuesday, July 14, as a day honoring WT was proclaimed in an official memorandum by Andy Rogers, Acting Governor of Texas on July 9. Rogers is state senator from Childress.

On hand when the Acting Governor set the date were Mrs. Florence Cotten, executive secretary of the Board of Regents of Texas State Teachers Colleges, governing board for WT, Mr. and Mrs. C. Boone McClure, representing the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum, of which he is director, and representatives and senators from the Panhandle region.

The official memorandum, sent to President James P. Cornette, read:

"Whereas, West Texas State College in Canyon has served the residents of the Panhandle-Plains area for almost 50 years; and

Whereas, this college was established in 1910 as one of the seven State supported teachers' colleges and was originally known as West Texas State Normal College; and

Whereas, West Texas has operated as a four year college since 1918, granting thousands of degrees to men and women from all over Texas; and

Whereas, Pioneer Hall, a museum built in 1933 by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, is recognized as having one of the Nation's leading collections of relics of the early western and pioneer periods; and

Whereas, this outstanding institution of higher learning is recognized throughout the State and Nation for its important educational accomplishments;

Now, therefore, I Andy Rogers, Acting Governor of Texas, do hereby designate Tuesday, July 14, 1959, as

West Texas State College Day."

Rogers also issued a proclamation urging all citizens of Texas to see and visit "majestically beautiful and rugged Palo Duro Park."

Flat in the Middle of Nowhere...

A weak tire usually chooses the most inconvenient time and place to go flat. But, with the help of your Phillips 66 Dealer, you can be pretty sure this won't happen to you.

Seeing things through is an old-fashioned philosophy. Yet it's a rule one can live by and still look himself in the face. But like most rules it can be run into the ground. Applied to reading, for instance, it becomes wasteful and silly.

We grew up in a home where the walls were lined with books—good books—and our father had the gift of making them come alive for us. Beginning at age twelve, we undertook reading many novels that were either too old for our understanding or too tedious for our years. And many a summer was spent literally plodding through Middlemarch, Heart of Midlothian, Tess of the d'Urbervilles, or a Dickens novel. Last of the Mohicans, we remember, was especially trying. But the possibility of discarding a book half-finished simply didn't occur.

This philosophy has seen us through many a tough spot. But where reading is concerned it continues to be a burden. Now, always in a hurry, we do our reading haphazardly. We see a book on a neighbor's table or at the library, borrow it and begin reading without first knowing its value. About one-tenth of today's literature is worth the time it takes to read it. The fellow with limited time, careless selection habits and an old-fashioned conscience about finishing everything he starts will soon find his leisure hours have vanished and his mind needs to be washed out with soap.

Starting right now, we plan to amend our lifelong reading habits. From now on, we'd much rather wonder what happened to the hero than to regret the hours wasted finding out. The philosophy of seeing things through is sound only when the thing to be finished is worthwhile.

Cornette Article In Magazine

The August issue of the Ladies' Home Journal will feature an article by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of West Texas State College, in which he outlines his philisophy of living which he has "practiced and preached" for many years.

The article, "Let Them Build Tents," expresses Cornette's interpretation of "the good life" an interpretation with which thousands of students and former students of WT and people of the Panhandle are familiar.

"I guess I have spoken on this theme to WT students and groups all over the Panhandle for the past 11 years," Dr. Cornette said.

Opening the article, Dr. Cornette tells of the day when he and three other little boys spent three days building a tent against the garden fence of his Kentucky home. It was to be "the most wonderful tent ever built," and the boys "were going to have the most wonderful time sitting down and playing in it."

"But in less than an hour life in the tent had become so dull that we left it and went over to the other side of the garden and started digging a hole—a hole that was to be the biggest hole ever dug and in which we were going to have the most wonderful time playing that four little boys ever had doing anything"

Dr. Cornette wrote that many years later he understood the truth "first glimpsed on that summer day so long ago: that the real fun is in the building of the tent, rather than in the sitting down and playing in it."

He said "The real glory is in the going, rather than in the having arrived; that the real end and purpose of the traveling lies in the journey itself, rather than in the destination; that the 'good life' is to be found in hard work and in hard play; simply and solely in the living of life itself and in experiencing as fully as possible all of its qualities."

Dr. Cornette said that a "false idea" of security and of "having a ready-made tent handed to us," dominates our national thinking. He described as tragic the ideas of completing the task of living and having nothing to do except "sit down and play."

He declares that a dangerous threat to the "American way of life" is the notion that the "good life" is in no longer having to work and in escaping the rigors of life. This idea, he said, is the motivating force in "the intense and continuing struggle between labor and capital; it is the inspiration for our snowballing 'protect the individual' legislation; and it supplies oil for the idealistic lamps burning in most of our American homes."

He warns that the effects of parents to protect their children from the rigors of life, especially "from hard work I had to do," only robs them of the "best part of their living, and at the same time renders them largely unfit for the living that most of them are going to have to do after they're grown."

BEST ENGINES!
One of 7 Big Bests Chevy gives you over any car in its field

Open invitation to excitement, the Impala Convertible . . . and America's only authentic sports car, the Corvette.

You've got more to go on than our say-so: Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard passenger car and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED says it this way: ". . . surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price." And if you want the thrift of a six, you still get the best of it in a Chevy.

BEST ECONOMY No doubt about this: a pair of Chevy sixes with Powerglide came in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run—getting the best mileage of any full-size car, 22.38 miles per gallon.

BEST BRAKES Not only bigger, but built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. Just to prove what's what, Chevy out-stopped both of the "other two" in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds.
*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST RIDE A few minutes behind the wheel will leave no doubt about this. MOTOR TREND magazine sums it up this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

BEST TRADE-IN Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."
*National Automobile Dealers Association

BEST ROOM Official dimensions reported to the Automobile Manufacturers Association make it clear. Chevy's front seat hip room, for example, is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

BEST STYLE It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "a new high in daring styling."

Washington Report

INTEREST RATE RAISE

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

The demand of the Administration that the interest rate ceiling on long-term marketable government bonds be lifted has caused one of the most bitter, behind the scenes debates in many years. The President wants the authority to ignore the interest rate ceiling fixed by law and permit the interest rate on these long-term government bonds to be determined by whatever the money markets require. An indication of what will happen can be seen in the disclosure by the Treasury last week that it would pay an interest rate of 4.728% on a two billion dollar issue of one-year bills. This is the highest rate of any Treasury issue since 1920.

As most of you know, money is a very complex subject. One fellow said he could never keep any of it long enough to really study it. But, complex or non-complex, the fact remains that continued tampering with the interest rates, as has been done by this Administration, will produce more inflation and more burden on the already sorely pressed taxpayers of the nation. There has been a great hue and cry about the devaluation of the dollar because of inflationary practices; yet, those who decry the inflationary trends support the proposed interest rate increases. The fact of the matter is that money is like any other commodity. Those who are producing the daily needs of the citizens of this country utilize money in carrying on their businesses. When the price for that money is increased, it simply means that the producer of the products sold to the general public must, inturn, increase the price of the products he sells in order to absorb the additional cost of the money he has had to borrow. This is inflation at work. Not only must the individual pay more for the products he needs in his daily living, but he must also assume a larger tax burden, because the amount of interest to be paid on the national debt increases. Between the years 1955 and 1958 the amount of money required from the taxpayers as interest on the public debt increased by several billions of dollars, simply because of increased interest rates.

Should the President be granted the authority to pay higher interest on long-term government obligations, it will follow as a matter of course that all interest rates will be increased on all transactions in lending agencies from the smallest to the largest. This could mean an extended period of curtailed activities, insofar as the expansion of the economy is concerned, and the complete control of the economy of this nation by those who control the big money. If this continues, the chances are the government will be called upon to step in and force the lowering of interest rates. Should the government do that, it would mean the creation of much distress property and an economic upheaval that could be disastrous.

Retired Military Personnel

You may watch for some fireworks in the present Committee investigation of the activities of certain retired military personnel presently employed by business doing business with the government. The people generally are heartened by the long-needed investigation of the practices of military personnel who, upon retirement, obtain fat paying jobs with corporations and groups transacting business with the government. Some of the business runs into the billions of dollars. Corporations feeding at this lush taxpayers' trough are headed, in some instances, by former high-ranking military personnel. In other instances, retired Generals, Admirals, Colonels and others are employed by these corporations primarily because of their knowledge of how these government contracts are handled, their friends located in strategic positions, and their abilities to open doors that are closed to others. This nation has been very generous with the officers in the military — a great deal more generous than with enlisted personnel. In fact, arguments have been made on the Floor of the House that good retirement programs and higher salaries were necessary in order to retain military personnel. These retirement payments and the salaries are paid by the taxpayers of this nation. It does not seen quite "cricket" for those who have requested these additional benefits to utilize the information, the knowledge, and the friendships they have acquired during their service, to aid in the procurement of contracts — the cost of which must also be borne by the taxpayers.

Shower Honors Theora Cosby

A miscellaneous shower from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Hugh Greiner honored Theora Cosby, bride-elect of Gerald Wood Downing.

Mrs. Olin Cosby presided at the guest book table, decorated with a spray of daisies.

Araleen Bagley and the hostesses alternated at the serving table. Two wedding bells nestled on a styrafoam base tufted with turquoise net ruffles, were topped by a large blue bow, from which hung streamers tied in forget-me-not bows. Large sprays of daisies decorated with blue butterflies completed the centerpiece. Crystal service completed the setting. A white linen cloth with blue scallops was used.

Pineapple sherbert in ginger ale, mixed nuts and cornuopoias filled with whipped cream were served.

The honoree wore a corsage of white gladili and blue butterflies.

Hostesses were Mrs. Greiner, Mrs. Virgil Henson, Mrs. Joe Byrd, Mrs. Elmer Marshall, Mrs. Jack Parsons, Mrs. Florence Stephenson, Mrs. Murray Boston, Mrs. Fred Stanley, Mrs. Ona Mae McMurray, Mrs. Battle Harris, Mrs. C. R. Henry, Mrs. R. D. Wheelock, Mrs. R. A. Smith and Mrs. Roy Franklin.

RAMBLING AROUND

DOYLE G. THOMAS

This is National Farm Safety Week. Farmers would do well to look at the farm accident figures and resolve to be more careful. Figures furnished us show that machinery and drownings account for one-half of the fatal farm accidents. Machinery alone accounts for one-third of them. Tractors cause more deaths than any other piece of machinery. Even though they won't run fast this indicates that they can be dangerous when not handled properly. Drownings continue to increase with the increase of farm ponds.

Nearly half (44 percent) of the accident fatalities associated with machinery occur during the busy farm work season — May, June, July, and August.

One-third of farm accidents occur to persons under 20 years of age; less than one-fifth to persons from 20 to 39 years; less than one-fourth from 40 to 59 years; and about one-fourth in ages 60 and over.

Don't forget to vote in the wheat referendum Thursday. The wheat program is administered according to the way wheat farmers vote in the referendum. It is our firm opinion that every wheat producer should exercise his authority to help decide this major issue. Certainly it should be decided by many and not by a few. Polls will be open from 8:00 A.M. to 6:00 P.M. in each community.

The final wheat loan rate remains the same as the temporary rate announced earlier, or $1.82 per bushel. Last year the temporary rate was raised 4 cents which resulted in some farmers getting additional amounts after their loan had been disbursed. This will not be the case this year.

Native grass pastures are the best in years. Farmers with good pastures might be ahead by harvesting grass seed from them. There is a large demand for grass seed each spring due to the acreage in the Conservation Reserve. Extra money may be picked up in this way. It looks like the Blue Grama seed crop will be good from a yield standpoint.

High School Musicians to Converge On WT for 7th Annual Music Camp

Featuring four bands, a choir, twirling, and individual instrumental instruction, the seventh annual West Texas Music Camp will be held Aug. 3-14 at West Texas State College.

More than 350 junior and senior high school musicians from throughout the Tri-State area are expected for the camp, which emphasizes an intensive daily instructional program with recreation, including swimming, picnics, dancing, and games planned each evening.

Director of the camp is Dr. Ted J. Crager, head of the music department at WT. Dr. Milburn Carey, director of the School of Fine Arts at Phillips University, will be conductor of the advanced, or Symphonic, band, and James A. Jacobsen, director of bands at Texas Christian University, will conduct the Concert Band. J. W. King, Jr., band director at Hale Center, will return as conductor of the Junior High band.

Walter Ehret of Hofstra College in New York, well-known clinician, editor and arranger, will be director of the camp choir, assisted by Dr. Houston Bright of WT as choir organizer, and Royal Brantley of WT, as sectional conductor and voice instructor. Bill Woods, director of bands at Seagraves, will be chief twirling instructor.

Instrumental instructors will include Dr. Crager, Donald Haddad, Mrs. Dorothy Haddad, Matilda Gaume, David L. Kaplan, all of the WT music department, and Dr. Joe Haddon of Midland, D. W. Crain, Jr., of Abernathy, Rex Shelton of Borger, Paul Lovett of Lubbock, Juanelva Rose of Tulia, and Alice Gordon of Borger.

Music directors of area high schools may enroll for graduate credit courses at WT during the camp, to be instructed by Jacobsen, Ehret, and Dr. Carey. These courses, for two semester hours credit, include "Marching Band Techniques," "Choral Materials," "Band Pageantry" and "The Concert Band." Seminars will be held in woodwind and brass instruction.

Students will register Aug. 2, enrolling for classes and trying out for the various bands. Students enrolling for bands may also participate in choral activities, and twirlers will be expected to enroll for band training .

A daily schedule will include twice-a-day band and choir rehearsals, sectional instruction, individual lessons, ensemble work, and classes in such work as theory, conducting, arranging, stage band, and a "record club."

Scholarship Won By Kerry Knorpp For College Use

Kerry Knorpp, 16-year-old Canyon High School junior, has won one of five scholarships awarded each year by Town and Campus clothes.

Kerry, son of Mrs. Myrtle Knorpp, was awarded the $400 scholarship after the drawing by the national manufacturer. It may be used at the college or university of his choice.

The Canyon youth filled out the registration blank which comes in each coat the manufacturer sells. The blank was sent to the manufacturer, and at the end of the year, five names were drawn from registrations throughout the United States.

Applications Due Now For GI Bill

Veterans planning to start school in the fall under the GI Bill should apply now, according to the Veterans Administration.

By applying now, a veteran can beat the rush and eliminate any chance of delay at the last minute, VA said.

VA released a checklist to help veterans. Points are:

1. Decide your goal in advance, since you may change your GI course only once.
2. If you are undecided about what to train for, ask for VA vocational counseling.
3. Be sure your course has been GI-approved by the state in which the school is located.
4. Make all arrangements for gaining admission to the school before making any application with VA.
5. Fill out the GI training application completely and sign it. Send it, along with a photostat or certified copy of your separation paper, to the VA regional office, 511 North Akard Street, Dallas 1.
6. If you have dependents, you should have the necessary proof of dependency.
7. Take along enough money of your own to tide you over the first two months of training. It ordinarily takes that long for the first monthly GI check to reach you.

When money talks it probably is considered a paying teller.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Cooperators of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District are among those honored by issuance of the world's first soil conservation stamp, Mr. J. W. Spencer, chairman of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District said today.

Mr. Spencer said the stamp, to be issued August 26 at Rapid City, S. D., is a "tribute to the nation's conservation farmers and ranches including the 200 cooperators of the local district, which has been operating since 1956.

"The 4-cent stamp is in recognition of the farmers and ranchers who are demonstrating good soil stewardship," Spencer said. "It is a salute to their soil conservation districts, and to the professional workers of the State and Federal governments who help them."

The stamp will go on sale August 26 at Rapid City, S. D., at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of American, a professional organization, Spencer said.

On the following day, the stamp will go on sale at other post offices throughout the country, including those at Canyon and Amarillo.

Mr. Spencer said local observance of the issuance of the soil conservation stamp is being planned.

Mrs. Frank Stallings, Dovey and Diane, of Austin are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Foster. They are also visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Stallings in Pampa.

'Reclining Figure' to Hit Boards of Branding Iron Theatre July 30

A comedy which is a satire on art collectors and dealers, "Reclining Figure," will be presented July 30 and Aug. 1 in the Branding Iron Theatre at West Texas State College.

Scheduled to be produced in intimate theatre, the play will be directed by Robert L. Antrim. A cast of ten will appear in the Harry Kurnitz comedy which was first produced on Broadway in 1954, and starred Mike Wallace.

The story revolves around a fake Renoir painting, the title of which furnishes the title of the play, which an eccentric collector agrees to pay $100,000. The painting to be used in the play will be done by a senior WT art student, Marcella Chandler of Littlefield.

In leading roles are Jerry Ballew of Perryton, as Samuel Ellis, Ann Smith of Dimmitt as Cas Edgerton, and Carroll Killingsworth of Wheeler as Lucas Edgerton, the collector.

In other roles are Penny Cox of Amarillo as Wilma, Morris Westberry of Dimmitt as Agramonte, Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt as Paul Weldon, Guy Yates of Amarillo as Jonas Astorg, Mike Wheeler of Amarillo as Denesco, Jo Beecher of Dimmitt as Dr. Hickey, and Kim Williams of Plainview as Madame Jumelle.

The story, as related by the New York Herald-Tribune, "generates its own chaos: the sleek effusive and cheerfully dishonest world of the art experts. He has set up a gullible millionaire who keeps ten-cent cigars in a $1200 spice chest and who is fond of collecting the recent masters.

"He runs him afoul of a high-pressure dealer who is given to crying like a baby when parting with his treasures, a hard-drinking 'restorer' with a talent for forgery and a soft-headed young salesman with high ideals and, unfortunately, a hot property on his hands. The chicanery pyramids with an easy logic, throats are cut with casual charm, and the intrigue mounts delightfully as romance and art mix to everyone's satisfaction."

A special showing of the play will be given for members of the Reading Conference at WT July 28. Admission will be 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Reservations may be made through the WT speech department.

Mrs. T. F. McKinney has returned from vacationing in Colorado. Gail is visiting her sister, Mrs. James Duncan in Clovis, N. M.

YOUR RECEIPT THANK YOU

We are proud to announce the installation of automatic equipment to speed up money handling.

Here's how it works: the cash register totals your bill. Then it shows the amount given the cashier. Next, it figures your change, shows amount of change at the top of the register, and prints it on your receipt. At the same time, coins are automatically delivered by the change dispenser.

Convenience is the object of this whole system. It means you won't have to wait as long. It means no chance of error in counting your change. And, since the amount of your change is printed on your receipt, it means that you can check up on your money at any time. We are happy to tell you about this new way of serving you better.
